

FINE TERROIR ADDS NEW RHÔNE WINES

Fine Terroir Selections welcomes new Rhône wines for April from Maison Sinnae Laudun-Chusclan Eléments line: a Côtes du Rhône white wine, Luna, which represents a rare white wine offering in Connecticut, and its Côtes du Rhône red wine, Sol. Eléments Luna is an AOC Côtes du Rhône Villages Laudun white wine made mostly with Grenache Blanc, Clairette Blanche, Viognier and Roussanne, which creates a lively and harmonious wine with superb aromatic depth. Eléments Sol is a red blended from Grenache Noir, Syrah, Carignan and Mourvèdre, also AOC Côtes du Rhône Villages Laudun. The cuvée is a dark ruby color, offering well-balanced, supple and round wine with a bouquet of fruity and fresh aromas and round tannins. The wines are created with respect for nature and in harmony, set to showcase the diversity of terroirs in Southeastern France.
